15TH ANNUAL FAMILY OFFICE
INVESTMENT SYMPOSIUM

The Loews Santa Monica Beach Hotel | March 18-20, 2020

FAMILY OFFICE INVESTMENT SYMPOSIUM

Our 15th Annual Family Office Investment Symposium will be held at The Loews Santa Monica Beach Hotel in Santa Monica, California, and will offer high quality networking and business development opportunities that both our sponsors and attendees have come to appreciate. The annual FOIS is a two and a half day investment conference centered around the principles of preserving your legacy and investing in your future. The Investment Symposium is filled with educational presentations, panel discussions, entertainment, and networking opportunities that help further the conversation of legacy preservation within the family office space. Join over 400+ professionals and gain new insight about the latest investment opportunities.

Each year it is our goal to provide our attendees with new investment strategies and high-quality information about a wide range of industries from real estate to technology. The Investment Symposium is here to expose our attendees to think critically about shifting markets and educate them to make wise investment decisions. This year we are looking to attract highly reputable sponsors who can bring extended value to our community.

Our audience is made up of ultra-high-net-worth individuals, institutional investors, Single & Multi-Family offices, lawyers, business managers, wealth managers, attorneys, investment bankers, and CPAs that all work with high-net-worth individuals. Many of the families that attend are members of the “Forbes 400 Wealthiest Individuals in America.”

We bring a variety of speakers each year to the Annual Family Office Investment Symposium, ranging from political commentators to professional athletes. Lido Consulting understands the value of inspiration when it comes to providing a unique, impacting, and insightful agenda at our conference.

THE INCENTIVE

The symposium is designed to provide our sponsors with a rich business development environment. Sponsors are strategically invited to be a part of an elite conference where they will be able to meet and network with family offices, senior management teams, high net worth individuals, as well as other institutional investors.

Whether you're a professional services firm wanting to reach prospects, or a presenting company that would benefit from additional exposure to investors, there is a sponsorship opportunity to fit your objectives.

Sponsorship of FOIS gives you access to high-net-worth individuals plus executive management teams, providing the people who influence purchase decisions directly with information on your products and services.
